Research Ethics

Research ethics constitutes a critical component of academic and professional endeavours, ensuring that research activities are conducted with integrity, respect, and responsibility towards participants and the broader community. The study of research ethics encompasses a range of objectives and purposes aimed at fostering ethical awareness, guiding ethical decision-making, and upholding the principles of integrity and transparency in research practices. By familiarizing oneself with foundational concepts such as respect for human dignity, beneficence, justice, and honesty, individuals gain insights into the ethical dimensions of research activities and develop a framework for ethical decision-making. Through case studies, discussions, and practical examples, learners explore the complexities of ethical dilemmas in research and learn to navigate them with sensitivity and accountability.

Objectives of the Workshop

The study of research ethics aims to equip individuals with the knowledge and skills necessary to identify and address ethical challenges in research. Participants learn to recognize potential ethical issues related to informed consent, confidentiality, data management, and conflicts of interest, among others.

By examining real-world scenarios and ethical dilemmas, learners develop critical thinking skills and ethical reasoning abilities, enabling them to assess the ethical implications of their research and make informed decisions to mitigate risks and uphold ethical standards.

Learning and strictly adhering to research ethics is integral in promoting a culture of integrity and responsible conduct in research environments. Through education and training, individuals are encouraged to reflect on their roles and responsibilities as researchers and to prioritize ethical considerations in their work. By emphasizing the importance of honesty, transparency, and accountability, research ethics fosters a commitment to ethical behaviour and professional integrity, thereby enhancing the credibility and trustworthiness of research outcomes. It is only through observing ethical considerations and upholding ethical standards that students, scholars, and academicians may contribute to the advancement of knowledge and the betterment of society, ensuring that research activities are conducted with integrity, respect, and accountability.

REPORT

12/12/2018

One-Day Workshop on “Research Ethics”

Research Ethics in higher education uplifts knowledge, accuracy, validation, and truth. Ethical norms enhance collaboration by fostering transparency, accountability and justice. Adherence to ethical norms encourages public trust and ensures to secure the commitment towards research integrity and quality safeguarding the funding support.

A One-day Workshop on “Research Ethics” has been organized by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Khandra College on 11th December 2018 at the Seminar Hall of the College in two sessions (1st Session-11AM to 1PM and 2nd Session- 2PM to 4PM). Prof. Dr. Ashish Kumar Chakraborty, Associate Professor, Department of Political Science, Khandra College has delivered his lecture on the topic in the first session. Prof. Sisirendu Dasgupta, Associate Professor, Department of English, has presented his notions on the respective topic in the second session on the workshop day.

Around 114 students of the college and 58 teaching and non-teaching staff of the college have attended the workshop and have able to enrich their knowledge on the subject. The workshop has conveyed the facts and necessities of maintaining research ethics, such as, safeguarding the integrity of research methodology and outcomes, enhance the credibility and reputations of the research organizations, protects conflicts of interest and biasness in research on justifiable grounds, encouraging innovation and creativity, dissemination of precise and trustworthy information, ensuring contribution towards the well-being of the society and to navigate ethical challenges and dilemmas.

Research Design

A well-planned research design provides a platform for conducting a successful research. This design addresses problems and creates a consistent and logical model for data analysis. Research design is such a unique framework that offers ideal guidance about the process of how the research objectives will be carried out using appropriate techniques of collecting and analyzing data.

Objective of the Workshop

It is very crucial to frame a suitable research design to bridge the gap between theory and practice. Research design choices should be driven by the aims and priorities focusing on what should be achieved. Research design is a more intricate structure that forms a major part of the entire research proposal or any project. This workshop is aimed to portray a comprehensive and clear view of framing an appropriate research design that includes the understanding of the following:

- Types of research design
- Different research design methods with examples
- Identifying population and sampling methods
- Choose data collection methods
- Plan data collection procedures
- Choosing among different data analyzing strategies

REPORT

25/11/2019

One-Day Workshop on "Research Design"

Research Design is an important aspect of any scientific investigation that provides a blueprint of the roadmap for pursuing the work in an appropriate manner. It includes systematic collection, analysis and interpretation of the data. A well-designed research study is essential for generating meaningful insights and upgrades our understanding of various aspects of the subject or the matter of study.

A One-day Workshop on "Research Design" has been organized by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Khandra College on 22nd November 2019 at the Seminar Hall of the College in two sessions (1st Session-11AM to 1PM and 2nd Session- 2PM to 4PM). Dr. Abhisek Bhattacharya, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Khandra College has delivered his lecture on the topic in the first session. Dr. Sandip Tah, Assistant Professor, Department of Geography, has presented his notions on the respective topic in the second session on the workshop day.

Around 103 students of the college and 57 teaching and non-teaching staff of the college have attended the workshop and have able to enrich their knowledge on the subject. The workshop has conveyed the facts and necessities of framing the research design, required for planning, conducting and interpreting a research study. In the first session, Dr. Bhattacharya has explained in details about the steps and procedures to be followed throughout the research process, from formulating questions to interpreting the results and portraying the conclusion. In the second session, Dr. Tah has clearly elucidated about selecting the appropriate methods and techniques to be used in various situations, maximizing the validity and reliability of research findings, augmenting the generalizability of research findings to wider population and finally managing resource efficiency.

This workshop was of an immense help for the students and academicians.

Role of MSME in Local Industry

Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) play a pivot role in boosting local industries and enhancing employment opportunities, output growth, fostering innovation and creating conducive business environment. They play a crucial role in the development of the rural areas and local communities by generating revenue, raising the competition that in turn leads to better products and services. MSMEs are often the lifeblood of local economies, generating employment, backing entrepreneurship and attributing to overall socio-economic development of the communities.

Objective of the Workshop

This workshop is mainly focused in order to realize the importance of MSMEs in boosting up local industries that in turn will contribute towards development of the communities. By offering diverse employment options and supporting skills development, MSMEs help reduce poverty, inequality, and brain drain in localities. The workshop encompasses majorly the following areas:

- Understanding the MSME Sector
- Skills and Qualifications Needed

One-Day Workshop on “Role of MSMEs in Local Industries”

Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) plays a vital role in contributing towards economic growth, industrial development, employment generation and community development worldwide. These sectors act as an employment generator especially in the rural sector, thus reducing absolute and relative deprivations across the society. Their existence in local industries helps diversify the economic landscape, reduce monopolistic exploitations thus enhancing healthy competition and attributing towards consumer's surplus. It also helps to promote import substitution and export promotion, thus contributing towards positive net exports and adding to the national income.

A One-day Workshop on “Role of MSMEs in Local Industries” has been organized jointly by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Khandra College and Yogamaya Engineering, Khandra on 21st December 2021 at the Seminar Hall of the College in two sessions (1st Session-11AM to 1PM and 2nd Session- 2PM to 4PM). Prof. Koustav Roy, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, Khandra College has delivered his lecture on the topic in the first session. Dr. Debarati Das, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, has presented his notions on the respective topic in the second session on the workshop day.

Around 90 students of the college and 55 teaching and non-teaching staff of the college have attended the workshop and have able to enrich their knowledge on the subject. The workshop has encompassed the issues related to the detailed understanding of the MSMEs, job structure requirements in the sector, desirable skills and professionalism, emerging scopes and opportunities, challenges and way outs. Moreover, the workshop has elaborated on the issues, such as, entrepreneurial opportunities, inclusive employment practices, collaborating and networking advantages, and visions towards progressive outlook and potential growth.

Anti-Plagiarism Software

Plagiarism is a very crucial issue that the educational society deals with around the world. Anti-plagiarism software is used to search the Web for duplicate textual context. It is very powerful software that protects from copyright and ensures the originality of the work. This is mostly used in the creative and research works in order to make the researchers and students become more aware of the unethical use of somebody's work and falsifies them in their own names without even citing the original source.

Objective of the Workshop

In the world of digitalization, anti-plagiarism software plays a vital role in holding integrity of research. The objective of this workshop is to make the students and researchers aware of the unethical copyright issues and to establish originality of their works that will further boost up the future of research and development. The workshop aims to focus on the following issues, such as,

- ◆ Detection of Unoriginal Content
- ◆ Promotion of Originality and Innovation
- ◆ Upholding Credibility
- ◆ Educational Tool
- ◆ Enhancing Research Skills and Quality
- ◆ Promotion of Academic Reputation
- ◆ Types of Anti-Plagiarism Software

One-Day Workshop

on

“Use of Anti-Plagiarism Software in Research”

In the world of digitization, maintaining integrity backed by ethical norms has grabbed an important arena in the field of research. With the easy availability of wider amount of data, the risk of plagiarism has also broadened. To combat this, anti-plagiarism software has emerged as vital equipment in ensuring the originality of work.

A One-day Workshop on “Role of MSMEs in Local Industries” has been organized jointly by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Khandra College and the Central Library, Khandra College on 8th April 2022 at the Seminar Hall of the College in two sessions (1st Session-11AM to 1PM and 2nd Session- 2PM to 4PM). Prof. Amrita Sett, Assistant Professor, Department of History, Khandra College has delivered her lecture on the topic in the first session. Mr. Sourav Mukherjee, Assistant Librarian, Khandra College, has presented his notions on the respective topic in the second session on the workshop day.

Around 102 students of the college and 61 teaching and non-teaching staff of the college have attended the workshop and have able to enrich their knowledge on the subject. By using anti-plagiarism software, researchers become more aware of the importance of avoiding plagiarism, by promoting academic transparency and accountability. The workshop has encompassed the issues detection of unoriginal content, promotion of originality and innovation, upholding credibility, educational tool, enhancing research skills and quality, promotion of academic standards, types of anti-plagiarism software.

This workshop has largely benefitted the students, scholars and all academicians.

E-Content

E-content plays a vital role in today's higher education, it is important to embrace innovative technologies, viz. virtual reality, augmented reality, and artificial intelligence to create immersive and personalized learning experiences. Developing e-content for higher education offers multiple advantages in learning experiences for both educators and students. It enables the spread of knowledge and wisdom on a broader platform encompassing huge audiences. It makes the sphere of higher education to get globally more integrated, thereby, enhancing the quality of education for students worldwide.

Objective of the Workshop

Developing e-content in higher education supports the concept of lifelong learning by providing scope for professional development, skill enhancement and knowledge acquisition beyond traditional degree programs. It also facilitates collaborations among academicians, students and researchers across different institutions globally. Moreover, it caters to the requirements of all learners including with disabilities or different learning aspects. Influencing learning management system (LMS) can offer valuable understandings of the subjects and make the teaching learning process more resilient. The major aim of this workshop is discuss on the issues on developing e-content such as,

- ❖ Concept of E-content
- ❖ Benefits of developing E-content
- ❖ Process of developing E-content
 - ◆ Introduce course design and objectives
 - ◆ Examples of good E-content
 - ◆ Strategies for developing E-content
 - ◆ Formats of E-content
 - ◆ Encourage use of audio-visual modes of teaching-learning process

One-Day Workshop on “Developing E-Content”

Developing e-content for higher education offers innumerable advantages that enhances learning more interesting on the parts of both educators and students. It enables experts to deliver lecture on the subject more comprehensively, update it easily and to reach out to a broader academicians. Despite the challenges of not having face-to-face interactions between educators and learners, still adaptive e-learning environment has indulged more involvement of the students thus making the learning process more effective and fruitful.

A One-day Workshop on “Developing E-Content” has been organized jointly by Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Khandra College on 7th December 2022 at the Seminar Hall of the College in two sessions (1st Session-11AM to 1PM and 2nd Session-2PM to 4PM). Prof. Shubhalakshmi Raychowdhury, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Khandra College has delivered her lecture on the topic in the first session. Dr. Sandip Tah, Assistant Professor, Department of Geography, Khandra College, has presented his notions on the respective topic in the second session on the workshop day.

Around 98 students of the college and 62 teaching and non-teaching staff of the college have attended the workshop and have able to enrich their knowledge on the subject. In the first session of the workshop, Prof. Raychowdhury has emphasized on the issues involving the concept of e-content, benefits of developing e-content, and process of developing e-content. Moreover, in the second session, Prof Tah, has focused on introducing course design and objectives, strategies for developing e-content, formats of e-content, and encourage use of audio-visual modes of teaching-learning process.

This workshop has largely benefitted the students, scholars and all academicians.

Role of Human Resource in changing Value System

In today's dynamic world, there is huge role of human resource in adapting and changing value system is need of the hour. Human resource plays a pivot role in supporting the workforce with progressive values, beliefs and standards. Human resource can effectively explicate the purpose, value and work-culture for the organization and communicate it to the employees and other stakeholders of the establishment.

Objective of the Workshop

Human Resource can motivate the change of the organization from a hierarchical framework to a network of active and proficient teams that can effectively respond to customer needs, market orientations and technological advancement. It can also help to design and implement new methods of working, organizing, and collaborating that enable the workforce to operate with utmost transparency and accountability. Human Resource can also help to develop the skills and attitude towards work-culture required for the new value system, such as, creativeness, flexibility and learning agile. The objective of this workshop is to cater the following issues, such as,

- Leveraging Technology for Value Orientation
- Measuring Impact and Effectiveness
- Continuous Learning and Development
- Recruitment and Selection
- Training and Development
- Performance Management
- Ethical Leadership
